CERTIFICATIONS

The Biodegradable Products Institute (BPI) is North America's leading certifier of compostable products and packaging. The organization is science-driven, and supports a shift to the circular economy by promoting the production, use, and appropriate end of lives for materials and products that are designed to fully biodegrade in specific biologically active environments. All products certified by BPI meet ASTM standards for compostability, are subject to eligibility criteria around the connection to food scraps, meet limits for total fluorine (PFAS), and must display the BPI Certification Mark. BPI's certification program operates in conjunction with education and advocacy efforts designed to support the broader effort to keep food scraps and other organics out of landfills.

The Compostable Manufacturing Appliance (CMA) is a global leader in providing industrial composting facilities an acceptance standard for compostables. The organization has pioneered field-testing processes and continues to extend that knowledge to a growing number of partner facilities across North America. By performing field disintegration testing through several prominent processing methods, it's ensured that products sent to industrial compost facilities adequately break down within the production cycle while meeting ASTM D6400 and D6868 requirements.

The Forest Stewardship Council® (FSC) is a global, not for-profit organization dedicated to the promotion of responsible forest management worldwide. FSC® defines standards based on agreed principles for responsible forest stewardship that are supported by environmental, social, and economic stakeholders. HGI maintains FSC Certification. Products with the mix label are made of FSC-certified and other controlled material. FSC certified products available upon request.

SFI® is an independent, non-profit organization dedicated to promoting sustainable forest management. SFI's forest certification standard is based on principles that promote sustainable forest management, including measures to protect water quality, biodiversity, wildlife habitat, species at risk, and Forests with Exceptional Conservation Value.
